Similarly, Katie DuBois, UV Product Manager shares her perspective on the ValueJet 1638UH Mark II's success, noting, "Having worked for multiple manufacturers and being relatively new to MUTOH, I am excited and happy to have been able to participate in acquiring the eleventh and twelfth Pinnacle awards for the ValueJet 1638UH Mk II, but not at all surprised by the win. I have always been impressed with MUTOH's commitment to bold, beautiful, repeatable, accurate color. This printer is unique in the industry. The only hybrid in its price class, it allows print providers the versatility to say yes to any project without the price tag and total cost of ownership as seen with larger hybrid printers. I am thrilled with the wins and the commitment to quality year over year that they signify."

MUTOH has always taken great pride in the design and manufacturing of its made-in-Japan quality products and top-notch service. MUTOH is committed to constant innovation and leading advancements in technology. MUTOH will continue to provide products that meet the highest quality standards in the industry.
